

Marilynne Robinson's American Vision

A Lecture and Discussion

Joseph Kraus, Ph.D.

Professor of English, The University of Scranton

Wednesday, October 18th @ 12:15 pm

Hawk Lecture Hall, Business Building, Room 201

Penn State Worthington Scranton, 120 Ridge View Road, Dunmore PA

Dr. Kraus will help us find our way in Gilead by considering some of the traditions Marilynne Robinson is drawing upon in her story. We will discuss the theological and historical strains of thought she seeks to recover as well as the critique of American culture she seems to be offering.

This event is free and open to the public.

Everyone is welcome.

Georgia O'Keeffe, Church Steeple (1930)

Joe Kraus is a professor of English at the University of Scranton where he teaches creative writing and American literature. Currently president of MELUS – the Society for the Study of Multi-Ethnic Literature – he specializes in 20th- and 21st-Century American literature and culture.

For more information, please contact Dr. Kelley Wagers kjw14@psu.edu

SCRANTON READS
ONE CITY ONE BOOK

